Remote Control Code List

MANIPULATING YOUR TV USING REMOTE CONTROL

Important: The DEC key is dedicated to your receiver. It is not possible to change the code of this key to control another type of equipment.

Programming the TV code

The codes of the TV can be found in the code list attached to these operating instructions. First find the brand of the TV you wish to control. E.g.: if you have a Philips TV look for Philips in the code list.

1. Switch on manually the equipment you wish to control.
2. Keep the TV Mode key pressed for approx. 3 seconds until the TV Mode key LED blinks and remains on continuously.
3. Release the TV Mode key.
4. Enter the first 4-digit code corresponding to the brand of your TV by pressing the 0-9 keys; the TV Mode key blinks off each time you press a key.
5. If you entered the code correctly, the TV Mode key turns off after the last digit has been entered. If an invalid code is entered, the TV Mode key will flash for three seconds before going out.
6. The code entry is finished.

Should the TV not respond as you expect it to do, you can try to repeat the programming using another code. Please try all the codes indicated for your brand. Select the code that makes your TV responds correctly to any command available on your remote control! If you failed this way, then have another try with the search method described below.

Code search (automatic search)

1. Switch on manually the equipment you wish to control.
2. Keep the TV Mode key pressed for approx. 3 seconds until the TV Mode key LED blinks and remains on continuously..
3. Release the TV Mode key.
4. Point the remote control at the TV you wish to control and press the PROG+ key once briefly. If the TV does not possess a channel up/down function, then press the STANDBY key instead of PROG+. The remote control starts the search and sends a code every second. Each time a code is sent, the TV Mode key will blink off.
5. As soon as the device does respond to the remote control, press the OK key. The TV Mode key turns off.
6. Should you fail to press the OK key in time, you can step by step return to the code to which the TV has responded using the PROG- key.

If you want the remote control only to send a new code every 3 seconds instead of every second, proceed as follows: Press and release PROG+ (STANDBY) twice (see step 4). This will give you more time, but the procedure will also take longer. The Code search starts with the 4 digit number stored at the moment.

Code search (manual search)

1. Switch on manually the equipment you wish to control.
2. Keep the TV Mode key pressed for approx. 3 seconds until the TV Mode key LED blinks and remains on continuously.
3. Release the TV Mode key.
4. Press several times in succession (up to 350 times) the "STANDBY" or "PROG+" (channel up) key until the TV to be controlled has been switched off or change channel. Each time you press a key, a code is sent and the TV Mode key will blink off.

5. As soon as the device does respond to the remote control, press the OK key. The TV Mode key turns off.
6. Should you fail to press the OK key in time, you can step by step return to the code to which the TV has responded using the PROG- key.

Code identification

The code identification allows you to identify the code that you have already entered and that is memorised in the remote control. Proceed as follows:

1. Switch on manually the equipment you wish to control.
2. Keep the TV Mode key pressed for approx. 3 seconds until the TV Mode key LED blinks and remains on continuously..
3. Release the TV Mode key.
4. Briefly press the TV Mode key again. The TV Mode key blinks off.
5. To find the first digit, press each number key from 0 to 9 until the selected Mode key blinks off. The number you pressed is the first digit of the code. To determine the second, the third and the fourth number, repeat the procedure.
6. The selected Mode key will turn off as soon as the key for the fourth number has been pressed.
7. The code identification has now been completed.

Normal operation

After having programmed your remote control for your TV, your remote control will, in respect of the most common main functions, work like your original TV remote control.

Point your remote control at the respective device and press the appropriate MODE key: TV to control your TV or DEC to control your Set Top Box. All functions will now be activated by pressing the respective function key of your remote control. For each transmitted IR signal, the respective Mode LED blinks.
